

T-REX Tour

Saturday, October 2, 2004

Join your friends on Saturday morning, October 2nd, and take some of the mystery out of the T-REX monster. The Club has arranged for a rail-oriented tour of the Denver Transportation Expansion Project (T-REX). By 2006, in the southeast metro Denver area, we will have light rail transit and numerous highway improvements to make our travel easier. T-REX will add 19 miles of double-track light rail connecting to the existing system at Broadway in Denver and extending along the west side of I-25 to Lincoln Avenue in Douglas County and in the median of I-225 from I-25 to Parker Road in Aurora. In addition, T-REX will build 13 stations with "Park-n-Rides" at 12 of the stations and add 34 light rail vehicles to RTD's fleet.

Our tour guides will be very knowledgeable about the project. They are the engineers who inspect the civil (track work, bridges, etc.) and electrical parts of this $1.3 billion light rail and highway project. We will be entering construction zones. Due to site safety regulations, attendees must be at least 16 years old. All participants must wear long pants, closed-toed, hard-soled shoes and bring eye protection. Our tour guides will supply hard hats and orange safety vests.

We will gather at the T-REX construction office at 7200 South Alton Way in Centennial, CO starting at 8:30 AM. To find Alton Way, exit T-REX (I-25) at Arapahoe Road, proceed west to South Yosemite Street, turn left (south), and proceed to Alton Way. At Alton Way, turn left (east) and proceed to the construction office on the east side of the street.

At precisely 9:00 AM our hosts will give us a ten-minute overview of the project. We will then board chartered busses and proceed to construction sites of interest to a rail group. We will return to the Alton Way office at about Noon. Time will not allow us to tour the new Elati maintenance facility on this trip. We are planning a trip to Elati early next year.

The cost of this tour is $25.00. Bob Wilson – Trip Chairman.

Refund and Cancellation Policy:

Order your tickets now! We will issue a full refund less $10.00 for handling fees through September 20, 2004. After that date there will be no refunds for cancellations.
